SAPD to unveil monument at new facility

District 5 City Councilman David Medina Jr., Assistant City Manager Erik Walsh, Police Chief William McManus, and City Engineer Mike Frisbie will unveil a monument to officially open the San Antonio Police Department's new Property and Evidence Management Facility.

The ceremony is scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday, April 18, at 555 Academic Court (see the attached map).

This renovated facility houses the Property and Evidence Room; Applicant Processing Office; Volunteers in Policing; and School Safety Office. In addition, the facility houses a 112,500-square-foot property and evidence storage warehouse; additional administrative office space; and a vehicle storage building.

The City purchased this building in 2007 with plans to relocate the San Antonio Police Property and Evidence Storage area from the Frank D. Wing Municipal Court Building, which had reached office and storage capacity. The facility underwent extensive internal and external renovations and improvements, including limited sitework, electrical and HVAC systems, roof work, installation of warehouse racks, and ensuring the building is fully accessible.

The total project budget was $19.4 million, including land and building costs.

The design and construction team consisted of:

- Architect: Debra J. Dockery, Architect, P.C.
- Contractor: F.A. Nunnally Co.
- Civil Engineer: CDS / Muery Services Inc.
- Structural Engineer: Alpha Consulting Engineers Inc.
- Mechanical / Electrical / Plumbing Engineer: Alderson and Associates Inc.
